

Deenah Fakhoury

Deenah carries a collective multidisciplinary long-standing experience within the corporate and the NGO spheres.

Combining the corporate world and the NGO's world has been her strive for almost two decades, with a firm belief that collective action and cross sectoral partnerships are key to building a sustainable path for national and global recovery.

Deenah currently assumes the role of the Executive Director for Global Compact Network Lebanon, a network of businesses committed to advancing Sustainability and the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) within the framework of the UN Ten Principles based on Human Rights, Labor rights, Environment and Governance, and has been appointed as the Middle East representative at the Global Network Council.

She has also been appointed in 2022 as a Malala Education Champion within the Lebanese Chapter.

She is also an active member of the Lebanese Private sector Network

She is driven by the motto: "A little by each, a lot by everyone".